RAS RESTAURANT AWARDS 2007

RAS Awards

The Restaurant Association of Singapore (RAS) held its first RAS Restaurant Awards on 16 October 2007 to celebrate Singapore's F&B industry's talents and milestone achievements. To commemorate the event, a host of awards were presented to F&B enterprises and individuals to honor their outstanding performance and accomplishments.

The Restaurant Association of Singapore (RAS) was established in 1980 to promote cooperation among restaurants and to upgrade their capabilities. The association has more than 180 members and is the largest representative body for the F&B establishments in Singapore. RAS also works with various Government bodies and F&B related associations overseas to develop the local F&B industry. RAS is a member of the World Association of Chinese Cuisine and is also a sister Association of The Association of Restaurant Managers, Hong Kong and the Shanghai Restaurants Association.

The awards are in line with the government and RAS' efforts to profile the F&B industry as an exciting, vibrant sector filled with dynamic opportunities. The RAS Business Excellence Award, Singapore Workforce Skills Qualification (WSQ) Training Excellence Award and Lifetime Achievement Award are three of the five awards that were presented to the industry for the first time. The Tasty Singapore Chef RAS 2007 Award and EXSA (Excellent Service Award) Star Award and have been presented for two and 13 consecutive years respectively.

All in all, RAS Restaurant Awards night was a prestigious and successful event that highlights the core of the restaurant industry. Sia Huat Pte Ltd is pleased to have been associated with the RAS Restaurant Awards 2007 as a key sponsor.
